

I support RM-10352 Separating wide and narrow band modes will reduce any possible interference between the various user groups and thus reduce enforcement problems for FCC.